Member

Ann has worked within education for over 30 years, and in that time has gained a wide range of experience, working in four High Schools across three different Local Authorities in the West Yorkshire region.

Ann joined Batley Girls' High School as an Assistant Head in 2011, leading on staff training, professional development and performance management. The high standards of teaching were recognised in 2013, when the school was judged as Outstanding.

A key area for Ann was inducting new entrants into the profession, ensuring that the next generation of learners benefit from the best quality teaching. In 2012, Batley Girls' High School was established as the Lead School in the Yorkshire Rose Teaching School Alliance.

Ann is passionate about teaching and learning and understands the difference a good education makes to people's lives.

Qualifications - NPQH, FCMI, PGCE & BA Visual Arts.
